A SYSTEM FOR ARRANGING THE DATA FOR A FAMILY TREE

In this arrangement the exact relationships and ancestors of all persons are shown. This may be read page by page like a book. The person whose ancestry is traced in No. 1, has brothers and sisters 1a, 1b, and so on. The father of No. 1 is No. 2, and the mother is No. 3.

The number of every male ancestor is twice the number of his child. The number of every female ancestor is one more than her husband.

The data are assembled into Lines, and the number of each Line is the number of the mother with which the line begins. The name of that line is her surname. These Lines are a summary, starting with the most recent ancestor at the top, so that more remote ancestors may be added and numbered whenever they are found. The number of the ancestor is always in parentheses. The even numbers are the males, the odd numbers the females.

There is a place for every ancestor and every ancestor may be put in his place. No numbers will ever conflict, and thus you may grow your own Family Tree.

NOTE: In the texts following each Line Summary, the names of the ancestors have been underscored for easy reference.

The Summaries do not always contain details in data, which may be found in the texts. These texts following each Line, in most instances are omitted in this book. Much in addition is in the original copy which could not, at this time, be included in this record. However, any amount of additional data pertaining to any Line may be added as is convenient.

Explanatory

Among the earliest settlers of Meigs and Athens counties, My ancestors came to make their homes and to help subdue the wilderness of the solidly wooded land of the New Ohio Country.

From earliest childhood there was a fascination in listening to the stories of pioneer days told to me by my grandmother, seated before her blazing fire of native coal.

It seemed but natural to want to know more about those early ancestors and their way of living, but not until after the passing of the generation that could have told so much, did I begin to put onto paper the names as I remembered them, and those of succeeding generations as I knew or could learn them.

Few dates or other facts of their pioneering days had been handed down and almost nothing of their previous homes they had left to settle in the new Ohio Country. They had come from "Virginia" or from "Maine" or "Mass." or "Vermont", and my search of records did not begin until about 1928. Credit for what success I have had lies mostly to the preservation of early New England records, and access to the New England Historic Genealogical Society's Library of Boston, Mass. Some thirty Immigrant ancestors were thus traced to the New England States.

Due to the destruction of Virginia records by early Indian raids, and succeeding wars fought on her soil, the search has been less successful there. With the purpose of giving as correct a record of these ancestors as is possible, and something of their descendants in Ohio and elsewhere, data have been assembled and indexed so that the various lines may be followed and individuals identified.

In doing this work history has taken on a new meaning and interest in the human race has deepened, as one finds patriots, Founders, Signers, Frontiersmen, Educators, Statesmen etc. among these early families in America bringing participants into a closer relationship, and adding kinship to the progress of the nation.

A record has been found of which we truly are proud to attach a proven line of descent. Able assistance has made possible this record, as set forth in the following pages.

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE.--As was stated last week, Mrs. Rachel Bradfield died at the old family homestead near Harrisonville, on Tuesday evening of last week at nine o'clock, of congestion of the lungs. She had been about the farm that day looking after her stock, and retired in the evening in apparent good health. Shortly after retiring she was called up by Frank Gilmore, a near neighbor, to visit his wife who was sick. Mrs. Bradfield being a good nurse, was frequently called on to take care of the neighbors' wives and children. When Mr. Gilmore called for her she got out of bed and dressed herself, and set out to see the sick lady. After going about two hundred yards she complained of feeling badly, and Gilmore suggested that she had better go back to the house, whereupon they started back, but did not get far before she became so weak that she could go no further. Gilmore hastened to the house for assistance, and the old lady was carried in and placed in a chair, where she died in a few minutes. She never spoke after the first complaint, and died within thirty minutes afterward, although she was conscious to the end, and the same moment she expired she looked up at the clock, apparently to see at what time the event was to take place. It is supposed that getting up from her bed and going out into the night air was the immediate cause of her death, causing her lungs to be filled with cold air and bringing on congestion. Her husband, Jesse Bradfield, died almost as suddenly on the 30th of July, 1874.

Mrs. Bradfield had been a member of the M.E. Church for sixty years, had lived on the same farm for about fifty-five years, and was among the first settlers of Scipio township, being but a few days less than seventy-six years of age at the time of her death.

She was the mother of ten children, seven of whom are now living. Her oldest son, John, at the beginning of the war enlisted in Co. H, 36th O.V.I., and died before being in the Government service a year. Her living children are as follows, beginning with the oldest: Mrs. Jane Norton, Battle Creek, Ida County, Iowa; Isaac Bradfield, Pomeroy; Mrs. Olive Bowman, Exira, Audubon County, Iowa; Mrs. Celinda Story, Kingsbury; Joseph S. Bradfield, Harrisonville, with whom Mrs. Bradfield made her home; Mrs. Samaria Humphrey, of Salisbury township, and Maggie E. Hysell, wife of Walter E. Hysell, Pomeroy.

Zachariah Bradfield, the father of Jesse Bradfield, husband of the subject of this sketch, was a full cousin of General George Washington, and built the first sawmill in Scioto township, ~~X~~ in the year 1831, on Little Leading Creek. The funeral took place Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from the Harrisonville Church, Rev. Matthews officiating. The remains were buried in the Shipman cemetery.

In same paper:

While returning from the funeral of Mrs. Rachel Bradfield, at Harrisonville, last Thursday evening Justice Bradfield and daughter Etta had a narrow escape from a serious accident. When near Zion Church the king bolt of the buggy was broken by some means, and the forward axle became detached from the remainder of the running gears. The team, Priode's spotted ponies, became frightened at this and ran away. The Squire was pitched forward over the dashboard just as the ponies started to run, and he struck his face on the axle just as it was dragged from beneath the buggy, bruising the flesh above both eyes. The Squire was otherwise shaken up pretty badly. Miss Etta was thrown against the top of the buggy, and escaped with a crushed hat and a big scare. The ponies ran for some distance with the front wheels, but finally stopped in a field, and were brought back. The buggy was lashed together and brought home. It was a narrow escape all around, as Mrs. Bradfield and son Charley were just ahead when the accident occurred, and their buggy was very nearly run down by the runaway team.

Ohio, paper.

CHASE.

Aquila (1) Chase and his brother Thomas (1), (who married ab. 1642, Elizabeth Philbrick, dau. of Thomas, and died 1652) came from England to Hampton, N. H. in 1639, where they were among the first settlers.

They had grants of land there in 1640 and 1644.....

Aquila had a grant in 1646 in Newbury, Mass., of "fower acres of land for a house lott, and six acres of marsh, on condition he serve with a boat for fower years".

He was a sea captain and was said to be the first white man to cross the bar at the mouth of the Merrimac river.

He married in Hampton, in 1641, Ann Wheeler, who was born in Salisbury, Wiltshire, England, daughter of John (1) and Anne (1) Wheeler.

In Sept. 1646, he and his wife and her brother, David Wheeler were prosecuted for picking peas on the Sabbath. He lived in Newbury from 1646 until his death, Dec. 27, 1670. Tradition says he was buried in the old graveyard on the Plains.

His will of Sept. 19, 1670, mentions his wife Ann and all his children by name, and his son-in-law, Charles Annis.

His widow Anne married, second, June 14, 1672, Daniel Knassiloway (or Silleway or Musselwhite). She died Apr. 21, 1687 in Newbury.

Sav. Gen. Dict. says he "died 29 Aug. 1670, aged 52".

Their 6th child Thomas, b. July 25, 1664, d. 1732, m. 1677, Rebecca Pollansbee (Thomas (1)), 2nd, 1713 Elizabeth (Woodhead) Moores.

Chase

"The Chase family is an ancient one of great respectability, and supposed to be of Norman origin. There were families of the name living in Suffolk County, Eng. as early as 1326. There are numerous branches in this country. The Buckfield Chases trace their descent from Aquila Chase, mariner, supposed to have been born in Chesham, England in 1618, and who came to America about 1639 with his brother Thomas. . . . Aquila Chase married Anne, dau. of John Wheeler of Hampton, N. Hampshire, ab. 1646, and settled in Newbury, Mass., where he died Dec. 27, 1670. His wife survived him and remarried."

"History of Wooster Co. Mass."

Chase Family

The Chase family of America descended from Aquila Chase and his brother Thomas Chase, can trace their ancestry to a remote period of English History. The family has taken a distinguished part in the history of England and America. The coat-of-arms of the family is:

"Gules or four crosses patence argent on a canton azurea lion passant, or."

Motto, ne cede malis: yield not to misfortunes.

Coat-of-arms (different description)

Arms: "gentes" or "gules", four crosses flery or, on a canton azurea lion
Passant of the second.

Crest: a demi-lion rampant, or.
holding a cross of the shield.

Motto: ne cede malis.

Chase, Aquila (ca. 1618-1670), from Eng. to Mass. before 1640; settled at Hampton, N.H.; at Newbury, Mass., 1646, m. Ann (1620-87) dau. of John Wheeler.

"It is supposed that Thomas and Aquila Chase acquired a knowledge of navigation, in the employ of their uncle, Thomas Chase, who was owner of vessels, and was part owner of the 'John and Francis', which was named in a letter of marque issued in 1626; according to records of the state-paper office of that year.

That Aquila was a direct descendant of the Chesham branch there is no question.

The unique name does not appear in any other family of Chases' in England.

The homestead of the Chase family, at Chesham, in the 16th & 17th centuries, on their leaving the parish, passed into the possession of the lord of the manor of Chesham, whose estate it adjoined; since which it has been leased as a farm.

The only building that was standing when in possession of the Chase family, is the ancient chapel, capable of seating some thirty persons. For many years this old chapel building was used as an out-house of the farm; but some thirty years ago it was restored to its original purpose, by the lord of the manor."-----"In the tracing of the descendants of Aquila Chase down through so many generations, we have been deeply impressed with the nobility of character, the sturdy christian virtues, and patriotism of these early settlers of New England. A distinguished writer asks: "What motives prompted them to leave forever their native country, to sever the ties of kindred, and part from the scenes and associations of early life, so dear to the human heart?" and the answer comes on every page of history, in every important act of their lives: that it was not for themselves, alone, but mainly for their posterity"....."They rose superior to circumstances with which they were environed, and by dint of the most arduous effort achieved success, in the face of a multitude of obstacles. Honest as well as earnest, they put their own hands to the axe, to the plow; and industry were deemed an honor, and indolence a disgrace wherever found. Their principles were not for sale at any price. Dishonesty was at so great a discount that so far from passing current, it could not pass at all. Genuine goodness in the character of the person was demanded, and no hypocritical counterfeit was accepted in lieu thereof. They adored realities and abhorred shams."....."In such a society mutual and implicit confidence was certain; and fellowship and co-operation, the basis of the strength of society, became inevitable. In this manner they sought to promote the general welfare of society. To this end they made personal sacrifices and endured unremitting toil in the performance of obligations incumbent upon them."

(More general data follows the above but is similar to what I have elsewhere.)

History of Newbury, by Coffin. pl 47.

"Granted to Aquilla Chase, anno 1646, four acres of land at the new towne for a house lett, and six acres of marsh where it is to be had, also on condition that he go to sea, and do service in the towne with a boat for foure years."

---from Town Records.

"The six acres of upland above granted were laid out to Aquilla Chase, 'beyond the new towne'.

In what month of this year these conditional grants were made to Aquilla Chase, or what was the precise service, which he was obligated to perform, the records do not inform us. He however, removed from Hampton to Newbury this year, and sometime prior to September, as we find in the county records the following presentment:

'September, 1646. We present Aquilla Chase and wife, and David Wheeler for gathering pease on the Sabbath day.'

For this offense the court orders them to be admonished and their fines remitted.

NOTE: There is a tradition in the Chase family, that he was the first person, who ever brought a vessel over Newbury bar. He was probably a pilot, and fisherman.

From: "Desc. of Aquila & Thomas Chase", by J. C. Chase.

"It was assumed or claimed that the brothers Aquila and Thomas Chase were sons of Aquila Chase, who was baptized in ~~Chesham~~, 7 Aug. 1580. The names and dates are entirely consistent with the supposition, but the facts studied at close range show that the assumption is not correct. The use of the comparatively infrequent name of Aquila in both Chesham and New England is, however very suggestive of a connection between the two families."

".....no evidence has been found to support the claim which has appeared in print innumerable times, that William Chase was a brother of Aquila and Thomas."

The "Chase Family", by Geo. B. Chase, Boston, 1869 gives Aquila Chase, bp. Aug. 14, 1580, and Thomas, bp., July 18, 1585 in Chesham, Bucks, Eng. as children of Richard Chase, Aquila had children, Thomas, b. _____, and Aquila, b. 1618, prob. not in Chesham.

"The Descendants of Thomas and Aquila Chase", by John Carroll Chase.

Thomas² Chase (Aquilal) was born in Newbury (now Newburyport) 25 July, 1658; d. in Newbury 26 Feb. 1733. He married (1) in Newbury 22 Nov. 1677, Rebecca Follansbee, dau. of Thomas Follansbee Sr. of Portsmouth, N.H. and Newbury and his first wife Mary _____. She was b. about 1660, probably in England, and died in Newbury, 27 Dec. 1711. He married in Newbury 2 Aug. 1714, Elizabeth Moores, who was, probably, the widow of Jonathan Moores of Newbury and the dau. of William and Mary Woodhead, b. in Chelmsford 28 Dec. 1674. Thos.² Chase learned the carpenter's trade. He was in the military service in King Phillip's War on 27 Aug. 1675, in Capt. Samuel Appleton's Company, and was credited $3:18s for his services 10 Dec. 1675. (Bodges Soldiers in King Phillips War, p. 154). He was in the Narragansett Campaign, and in Jan. 1701-2, petitioned for a grant of land for his services in 1675 and 1676. (Carriers Hist. of Newbury 1902, page 511.) In 1678 at the age of 24 he was one of the male inhabitants of Newbury to take the Oath of Allegiance.

In 1679 his family was under the inspection of Abraham Merrill, tithingman (Ibid. 117). In 1688 he paid a tax on one head, one house, eight acres of plow land, one acre of meadow, one horse, three cows, two two-year-olds, one yearling, eight sheep and three hogs. (Ibid. 206)

.....His Homestead was in what is now Newburyport. It passed to his son Nathan³ and then to his sons Edmund⁴ and Jonathan⁴ Chase, who sold it in 1798 to Mr. Jackson, and removed to Minot, Me. The old house was taken down in 1875. The land is now a part of the present estate of F. S. Moseley.

Thomas Follandbee of Newbury, joiner, for £56, sells his homestead in Newbury, "upon ye plaine", to his son-in-law Thomas² Chase 2 Nov. 1711, and Thomas² Chase, house carpenter, "for love" sells the same property to his son Aquila³ Chase, 2 Apr., 1713. (Essex Co. Deeds, 26:281 and Old Norfolk Co., Deeds, 4:152).

Thomas³ Chase of Newbury made his will Aug. 3, 1732, which was proved Feb. 25, 1733.

Thomas Chase was in the Swamp fight.

The following written by Miss Clarissa Benedict was read by her at the golden wedding anniversary of John Merrill Chase and Ester (Winn) Chase at their home in Rutland, O. Oct. 31, 1902. Written in a beautiful hand the original is among my letters.

"My grandfather John Merrill Chase was born March 1, 1774, at Newbury-Port Massachusetts, his parents at that time living in a block house built by Aquila Chase, one of the three brothers who came over from England and from whom all the Chases are descended.

At the age of twenty-one he went to Maine and bought a farm in Kennebec County. A few years later his father and family followed him and settled near him.

In 1798 he married Miriam Murray, daughter of Anthony and Brial Murray. I have not the day or month, but it must have been in the winter for the Ceremony had to be postponed on account of a deep snow storm which kept them in doors for some time.

I have been told how high it drifted and how long they were kept prisoners but I think the wedding was postponed one week. (The date of the marriage was Mar. 29-1797. E.W.)

Grandma was dressed on that occasion in a fine white painted muslin dress with a small red flower in it. It was preserved many years but is not now extant. Grandpa's hair which was black, was worn at that time in one long braid, tied with a black ribbon. The braid being so long that he could easily sit on it.

The minister with the bride and groom joined in the after dinner dance, as was the custom.

In the year 1815 some eight or ten families emigrated from Kennebec Co. Maine to Rutland, Meigs Co. Ohio.

How they learned of the rich lands of Leading Creek, I do not know, but in September of that year Grandpa started to that land of promise, with his wife and seven children: John, Polly, Jefferson, Hannah, Gardner, Miriam and Abigail, and a young man named David Dudley, and a neighbor with a large family, by the name of Maloon. Grandpa and Mr. Dudley who lived with them as one of their own family, stopped at Barnesville Belmont Co. Ohio and spent the winter. The next spring they again started for Rutland.

When he reached Elder Sterns' place in Athens Co. he offered inducements to hold him there during the summer of 1816, and the following fall he bought and moved on the place where he lived and died, and there he now lies.

Their youngest child Lydia was born there Jan. 25, 1817.

Grandpa was deacon of a F.W.B. Church for many years in Maine. Was chosen for that position when a church was organized in Ohio, which position he filled till his death, being familiarly called Dea. Chase. His daughter Miriam, my mother, married in 1833, and moved to Rutland, where she said her father started with her, far from Maine eighteen years before. When I went on the stand and looked over the assembly, and thought of the good times going to Grandpa's, I thought that Antie should be remembered. So I added something like this: I have spoken of the good times I have remembered going to Grandpa's, that there was another element in the household that is very essential, to make an old homestead complete--an old maid.

The older ones Marry and go to their own homes. They have children to take with them when they go back to visit, that turn the house topsy-turvy, there is the old Maid to put it in order, and see that they are fed and cared for that the home goings may be happy ones, and I would see God bless the old Maid that did so much to make our goings to Grandpa's such happy events, as to be remembered today with so much pleasure."

Lydia Chase

Obituary.

"Lydia Chase was born Jan. 23, 1817, in Athens Co. Ohio. She was the youngest daughter of John Merrill and Miriam Chase who came to Ohio from Kennebeck, Me., in the year 1815 and settled near what is now known as Chase Post Office in Athens County, O.

At the age of 13, she espoused the cause of Christ, and was baptized by the late Hosmer Miles; and later became a charter member of the Chase Church, the meetings previous to this time having been held at her father's house. Thirty-seven years ago she united with the F. W. B. Church of Rutland. She has been a faithful reader of the "Morning Star" since her childhood, and deeply interested in all the work of the church.

Her sufferings were at times quite severe, but she bore them with Christian fortitude, and often said to her friends that Christ was precious to her.

She passed peacefully away Oct. 15, 1894, aged 77 years, 8 months, 22 days. Funeral services at Rutland Church; text Heb. 4:9, of her own selection, conducted by the writer assisted by Rev's. Bolton and Murch, the latter of the Christian Church."

—J. B. Lash.

Newspaper Notice: Nov. 1. Died at the home of her son George, Abigail (Chase) Bradfield, Oct. 19, at the age of 83 years. Funeral services were held at the M. E. Church conducted by Rev. McCullough.

(NOTE: She was born Aug. 17, 1814, s. Apr. 4, 1838 John Bradfield, and died Oct. 19, 1897.)

William⁷ Chase (John Merrill⁶, John Merrill⁵, Jonathan⁴, Nathan³, Thomas²,) was born 3 Sept. 1824, married 22 Apr. 1849, Elvira Winn, dau. of Jacob Armstrong and Julia (Noble) Winn. William and Elvira after their marriage, lived at Vinton, Ohio, and it was here that the oldest child Julia (Chase) Giles was born in 1850, and named Julia Irene, the Irene being for Irene Woodyard dau. of Hannah⁶ (Chase) Woodyard, who was staying in the home at that time. It must have been at or near the time of the death of Miriam (Murray) Chase (Oct. 25, 1851) that William and Elvira moved to the old Chase homestead in Athens Co. where the third child Alice (Chase) Bradfield was born Jan. 18, 1853. John⁵ Merrill Chase died on Oct. 27, 1853, and it was probably upon the settlement of the estate according to his will proved Nov. 7, 1853, that the family of William Chase moved to Rutland tp. where they bought the Bing farm near Side Hill. Lydia Chase ("Auntie") came with them and as has often been related, my mother Alice Chase. Then a baby but a few months old, rode from Athens Co. to Meigs on "Aunties" lap. We do not know if the second child of William and Elvira, namely, John Merrill, was born in Athens or in Vinton Co. but he has related how he remembered being led by the hand by his great grandfather, Dea. John Merrill⁵ down a hill and across a bridge to the church. Although he was but little past 2 years of age when his gr. grandfather died and never saw the home after he moved to the new home in Rutland tp. his description of the trips to church were accurate as to the hill and bridge and the Chase meeting House near by. The four younger children of William and Elvira were born in Rutland tp. Meigs Co. Ohio, where they all grew to maturity.

He enlisted Aug 23, 1862, at the first call for volunteers, in Co. "E", 2nd Colo. Cavalry, at Central City, Colo. Territory, having gone with a party of "Gold Seekers", to Pikes Peak in 1859. His record of Civil War service follows. After his term of enlistment ended, he sent his discharge papers home to his wife and after attempts to locate in Kansas, wrote that he would soon dispose of the boat which he owned at St. Louis, which he had used for bringing supplies from New Orleans which he hauled overland to Pikes Peak and return home. He crossed the Plains many times with a team and wagon and endured great hardships and dangers in delivering these needed goods to the throngs of "Gold seekers" at Pikes Peak. His knowledge of the Kansas and Colorado Plains thus acquired, was the reason for his being chosen for escorting the expeditions against the Indians, who had become troublesome among the early settlers of Kansas, having been incited by guerilla warriors and "Rebel" sympathisers, and who carried away white women to the far west. He was with the Soldiers who marched into Lawrence, Kansas the morning after the destructive raid of quantrel and his guerrilla band which sacked and burned the town shooting down the defenseless inhabitants.

This letter in which his discharge was enclosed and which stated that he would be home as soon as the boat was disposed of was the last word ever received. A large and regular correspondence with his wife in which he returned many of her own letters to him was kept and later divided among his children.

My mother's part of this correspondence is among my records and it is my intention to have typed copies of these and some other family letters, made to file with the Yount letters already typed. The discharge papers of William Chase were accidentally destroyed while in possession of his youngest daughter Effie E. Martin. Williams mother was widowed early and she with the three small children reared them in Wisconsin and Northern Ill., where her own widowed mother, Catherine (Crawford) Young was living with her four children. Williams mother Alice (Young) Chase married 2nd, Jesse Yount and had six children.

- IV. Jacob Armstrong⁸, b. Nov. 10, 1854, Rutland tp. Meigs Co. Ohio d. May 24, 1930, Armel Colo. unmarried.

Jacob Armstrong Chase, son of Wm. and Elvira Winn Chase was born near Rutland, Meigs County, Ohio, November 10th, 1854 and died at Armel Colorado, May 24th 1930. Being 75 years 6 months and 14 days old.

He was one of seven children and was preceded in death by one sister Mrs. Julia Giles who died in Colorado. Charles Fremont Chase who died in California, and John Merrill Chase who died in Charleston, West Virginia. He is survived by three sisters; Mrs. Alice Bradfield, of Rutland, Ohio; Mrs. Lillian Morris, of Armel, Colorado; and Mrs. Effie Martin of Daykin, Nebraska.

In early life he made a profession of religion and was baptized in the 1st Freewill Baptist Church of Rutland, Ohio. He began teaching at the age of 16, and taught in the schools of Ohio for five years and then went to West Virginia, where he was one of the foremost educators of the county for a number of years. Many of the struggling youths of that day owe their chance for an education to his influence and encouragement.

After several years he was appointed deputy sheriff of Kanawha County, West Virginia and served for twelve years. He was a friend and confidant for the down and out, or those who felt they were oppressed as well as those in the higher walks of life.

He came west to help make a home for his niece Vernie Giles after the death of her parents. He had lived on the farm where he died for about 23 years; and was affectionately known to the neighborhood as "Uncle Army".

He has truly "lived by the side of the road and been a friend to man" as many of his friends and neighbors can testify. His kindly and happy disposition will long be a memory to those who are left.

Gen. I.

(28) "Abram Winn living at Kingston, Canada West in 1812 "refused to affiliate with the English, and he and six of his neighbors were cast into prison, pending their transportation, to be tried on a charge of treason. By the aid of crude implements, secretly passed to him by outside friends, the elder (Abram) Winn effected the escape of the party and they fled to Ohio"....."Friends in Canada ventured assistance in helping them over the border, where they were met by a delegation of the Patriots, and they set out for their new homes in the wilderness.

It was their intention to settle in Northern Ohio, but Mr. Winn became sick and delirious and the party lost their course and struck the Ohio River at Pittsburg."

They decided to settle in Meigs Co. where there was a small colony of Canadians. They started in rude boats, and stopped at Marietta for supplies. In September, 1816, they landed where Middleport now stands, and located in Rutland tp. on a farm near the present Ed. Molden farm. (See account from Stillman Larkin's Hist. of Meigs Co.) His wife's name was Martha Armstrong. She was born about 1774 and died 1860. He was born about 1771, and died 1835 aged 64 yrs.

To Miss Eliza Winn, great grand daughter, we are indebted for a great part of the following information concerning the family. Deeds, gravestone records (Miles Cemetery), letters and other sources provided further data.

Of the parentage of Abram and Martha Winn we have learned nothing further. (1940).

Stillman Larkins account of the family is as follows: .

"Abraham Winn moved with his family from New York to Canada and from there to Rutland, in 1816, and bought a farm on Section 17, where he lived until his death, in 1835, at the age of 64 years.

He left a widow and several children.

Mrs. Winn died in 1860, aged eighty-six years.

The children were:

Joseph Winn,

Sally, Mrs. Joseph Howell;

Jacob Armstrong Winn,

Fanny Winn, Mrs. Charles Nobles;

Jonathan Winn,

Lydia Winn, Mrs. Alexander Stedman;

John Winn lived and died in Albany, Athens County, aged 83 years;

Nancy Winn, Mrs. Daniel Skinner".

The following was obtained from Mrs. Mate Bing, mother of Bertah Chase, whose memory concerning the family gives a record somewhat at variance from Larkin, who does not name a son Matthew. She gives him as a brother of Joseph Winn.

Margaret Burwell (a cousin of Mrs. Bing), m. 1st Matthew Winn. He died leaving two children, Frances (da.) and another child. Margaret m. 2nd. Joseph Winn. Nancy Winn m. 1st Daniel Skinner, m. 2nd _____ Kerns.

He came with his parents from Canada, to Meigs Co., Ohio, in 1816, when a lad of 17 years. He moved his family into a log house near Side Hill in 1834. His home near Side Hill became, in the days of slavery, a station on the "Underground Railway" and Jacob Armstrong Winn was one of the "conductors" on this famous line which moved escaping negroes toward the Canadian border. At one time he took charge of fifteen fugitive negroes in one party and held them until he could deliver them to the next "station" at Albany, in Athens County, O. After his death, his son, Freeman, continued the business of conducting the fugitives, with the "station" on the homestead where he lived till his death, near Side Hill in Rutland tp.

Elvira Winn, daw. of Jacob armstrong Winn and Julia (Noble) Winn was born Jan. 28, 1823; died July 8, 1876, in Rutland tp., Meigs Co., Ohio. Buried in Miles Cemetery. She taught the first school within the limits of the Mutchler Dist., Rutland tp., which was probably about 1844. She taught the same school in 1845-6. She had prepared herself for a teacher by attending an academy at Gallia Co., where she stayed with her Uncle Bill Symmes who had married Noble her fathers' sister. Provision's were taken in a wagon, for her "keep" while in school. We have several of her teachers' Certificates granted in Meigs Co., one of which dated 1842 is probably her first teachers certificate.

- (7c) Charles Freeman (Jacob Armstrong, Abram), was born in Rutland township near Side Hill, about 1825: died, Oct. 18, 1888, aged 63 yrs.-3 Mo.-24 days. (Meigs Co. rec.) He married _____ Rachel Bradshaw of Albany, O. They lived on the old Jacob Armstrong Winn farm homestead near Side Hill, Rutland tp., Meigs Co., Ohio, where their oldest daughter, Eliza Winn, now about 80 years of age, lives with her brother Fred and his family (1932). Uncle Freeman continued to conduct the fugitive slaves, and to maintain the "Underground Railway Station" at the home as his father had done before him. He made many night journeys, driving his wagon with the "slave" passengers secreted underneath loads of hay or other produce of the farm, to deliver them at the next station at Albany, before daylight. The home of his sister, Elvira (Winn) Chase was another station where fleeting slaves were often kept hidden through the daytime, to be moved on under cover of darkness. The story of the dog, Rover, is told in "Underground Railway".

PIONEER WOMAN PASSES

Born in Log Cabin near Rutland in 1838, and Living for Years on Frontier, Mrs. Emily Groesbeck Dies in 89th Year at New Orleans

Passing of a pioneer woman is noted in a telegram received from New Orleans, announcing the death of Mrs. Emily Winn Groesbeck at her home in that city on May 20, 1927, in her 89th year. Her husband died in October, 1924, at the age of 90 years. Of their four sons, two survive, one a lawyer in Klamath Falls, Ore., and the other a contractor and building in New Orleans, with whom the parents made their home for many years.

About 1834 her father, Jacob Armstrong Winn, moved his family into a log cabin in the woods near Side Hill, Rutland township, Meigs county, O., where she was born December 1, 1838. For many years she was the only survivor of the pioneer family. Her parents, brother and sisters were charter members of the Second Rutland Freewill Baptist church, organized by Rev. Samuel S. Branch in her father's cabin in June, 1848. She also became a devoted member of the church.

At the age of 21 years she went to Woodson county, Kans., where she taught in the district schools, being one of the pioneer teachers in that newly settled country, making her home with her sister, Mrs. Eric Chase, until her marriage. She always was an active member of the W.C.T.U.

Always interested in the friends and scenes of her youth, she often expressed a longing for the woods and hills of her old home. At the age of 80 years, she traveled alone from New Orleans for a last visit to her beloved Meigs and the old friends still living there. She found her childhood home occupied by a family of the third and fourth generation of Winns.

She was a valued contributor to the old Telegraph, edited by E.S. Trussel, and the Leader by S.F. Smith, and often wrote interesting articles for those papers.

Eliza, (Freeman, Jacob Armstrong, Abram) was born ab. 1849, near Side Hill, Rutland township, Meigs County, Ohio, the daughter of Freeman and Rachel (Bradshaw) Winn.

She was one of the pioneer school teachers of the community in which she has spent her life, with the exception of several years which she spent as an instructor in the schools of Elk County, Kansas.

The home where she now lives (1932) and in which she was born, was built by her grandfather Jacob Armstrong Winn about 1845. He built his first home in 1835 in a primitive forest. Miss Eliza Winn has in her possession her grandmother's family Bible, more than 90 years old, from which much of the data in this family history was taken. She has also supplied much from her memory of the names and events reaching back over a period of many years. She owns a rocking chair over a century old, which was brought from Vermont. She also has in her possession a copy of the paper known as "Brother Jonathan", published in 1826.

She died on Aug. 22, 1933, at the old homestead and lies buried in Miles Cemetery, Rutland, Meigs County, Ohio.

Hatred of the "Fugitive Slave Law", especially in the border states of the north, was the forerunner of the "Underground Railway". Our freedom loving Yankees, acting on "The higher law", resolved to give practical effect to the "self evident truth" proclaimed by their own ancestors, the founders of the government, that "all men are endowed by their Creator with the inalienable right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness".

The Northern Star was guide and compass to many fleeing fugitives in Southern Swamps and friendly forests of the north, and guided many an "underground conductor" with his precious load of black humanity, from station to station where they were cared for and secreted during the daytime. Nothing but instinct for Liberty sustained the courage of the mothers and restrained the betraying prattle of little children, throughout long dark rides, often lasting several weeks.

The route across Ohio was the shortest way to Canada and freedom. The Ohio River, once crossed, served as a barrier to delay the pursuer who usually traveled on horseback, using the finest of southern riding horses.

The Jacob Armstrong Winn home was a "station" on the Underground Railway, and he himself was one of the "conductors" on this now famous line which moved escaping negroes toward the Canadian border. At one time he had charge of fifteen fugitive negroes in one party and held them until he could deliver them to the next station at Albany in Athens County. At that place one of the "stations" was the home of his brother John Winn, in whose home hidden slaves at one time watched from behind curtained windows their own master riding in pursuit of them, through the streets of Albany.

Freeman Winn, son of Jacob Armstrong Winn, continued his father's business of "conducting" slaves from the old home near Side Hill, in Rutland tp. as long as the need for this "Railway" existed.

Freeman Winn's daughter Elvira's home in Rutland tp. was another "station" from which he transported fugitive slaves. My Mother Alice (Chase) Bradfield remembered when they were hidden in the upstairs of the home. At one time some negroes hidden there were greatly frightened when their master's dog appeared after trailing them from the south. The dog was left behind, and the ^{family} kept it for many years. No owner ever was as successful as the dog, Rover, in following the trail of his slaves.

Uncle Freeman Winn would often arrive in Albany, Ohio, by daylight or earlier with a load of hay, from beneath which the "fugitives" would creep to their places of secretion, there to await the services of another "conductor", to continue their night's journey northward toward Canada and freedom.

GEN. I

1. John Noble, settled about 1720, upon a portion of the Mohegan lands in the North parish of New London, now Montville, Conn. His origin is unknown, although Miss F. M. Calkins, the historian of New London conjectured that he came in from Rhode Island. When first found on record at New London, he had a family. The first church in the North parish of New London was formed by Rev. James Hillhouse in 1722, and on the 21st of Nov. of the same year, among those "received into full communion were John Nobles and Mercy Nobles". He was a farmer. He married Mercy Williams probably dau. of Thomas and Joanna Williams of New London Conn. The History of New London says, "Thomas Williams appears in the plantation (New London) about 1670. His cattle mark was enrolled in 1680. He lived west of the river at or near Mohegan, and died Sept. 24th, 1705, about 61 years of age. He left a widow Joanna and eleven children between the ages of twelve and thirty-three years, and a grandchild who was heir of a deceased daughter. The sons were John, Thomas, Jonathan, William, Samuel, & Ebenezer".

There is no record of the daughters.

John and Mercy (Williams) Noble had eight children:

Charles E., (Shubael, Jones, John) came to Ohio with his parents in 1803, living at Marietta until 1805, when they moved to Meigs County, Ohio, locating near Rutland.
His tombstone inscription, Miles Cemetery, is brief, giving only his death date and not his age. "d. Mar. 25 1870."
He was perhaps the second child which would make the date of his birth 1795 or 1796. For accurate dates see under Shubael Gen. III.

He married Sarafana Winn, dau. of Abram Winn, "b. July 24, 1796, aged 94 yrs. 4 mo." (T. Rec. Miles C.)

Their children, seven in number, though not arranged consecutively, are as Miss Eliza Winn, of Rutland, gave them from her recollection of them.

Julia, (Shubael, James, John) was born at Tinmouth, Vt., the 9th of Sept. 1797, and died Dec. 7, 1882, on the old Winn farm near Rutland. She married ab. 1820, Jacob Armstrong Winn, (Abram), b. Aug. 18, 1799, d. June 9, 1858.

The following article, printed in "The Republican", a county newspaper published in Meigs County, Ohio, written by a personal friend, will best portray her, and is perhaps the only record left of her besides that in the memory of the few living at this time (1932), who knew her:

A Pioneer Mother

"Cheshire, Ohio, Sept. 13, 1877.

Editor Republican: One of our veteran Mothers, Mrs. Julia Winn, of Rutland was on a visit to her friends (not friends but relatives) Mrs. Symmes and Lucas of this place, on the 8th and 9th insts. Having known her for many years, and not having seen her for a long time, I sought an interview with her, and found her truly a veteran mother. Born at Timmouth, Vermont, Sept. 9, 1797: moved with her father Shubael Nobles, in a two-horse wagon from there to Marietta, Ohio, in 1801, and in 1805 to Rutland, where she has since resided.

She is 80 years old today, 9th inst. and is as spry as many women of 50 years, retains all her faculties to a remarkable degree for one of her age, reads ordinary print without the aid of glasses, sews, knits, spins on the big wheel, etc., etc.; remembers dates and events; her mind is vigorous and bright, and well stored with incidents and events of our early history, and of much interest to us today.

She said, "Just sixty years ago to-day, Gen. S. R.

Holcomb, then Sheriff of Gallia County, hung Jim Lane at Gallipolis".

She sang Burns, "Adieu" in a clear good voice; she always admired it for its noble sentiment and warmth of spirit.

She has 45 children, grand-children, and great-grand-children. May she be spared in her present good health, years to come, to be loved and admired by them, and a host of good warm friends"-----So.

There may be a mistake in the date given in this letter, for the landing at Marietta, (Sept. 9, 1801) for her daughter Esther (Winn) Chase in a letter to "Log Cabin Reminiscences", in "The Leader", Weiss County paper, says: "My Mother's people came from Vermont, and landed at Marietta, on Sept. 9, 1803, the day my Mother was six years old. (She was born Sept. 9, 1797.) Father's people came from Canada a few years later, escaping from political persecution at the time of the rebellion there."

Those who remember Julia Winn, or, as her grandchildren and great-grandchildren called her, "Grandma", are unanimous in saying she was a most remarkable person.

Children: (See Winn)

I. Nehemiah, died.

II. Elvira Winn Chase.

III. Freeman Winn.

IV. Nancy Winn Chase.

V. Esther Winn Chase.

23 VI. Emily Winn Groesbeck.

87

24 VII. Arthur Winn, served in Civil War. (For record, 25 see "Roster of Soldiers").

Abigail "Nabby", (Shubael, James, Jonn) came with her parents to Marietta, Ohio, in 1803, and to Meigs County in 1805. She married Phineas Matthews of Gallia County. (Was he a desc. of Increase Matthews, an early settler of Marietta?) His first wife was Mary Russell, who died June 4, 1815, leaving an infant son about two months old.

Among the earliest settlers of Meigs County was George Washington Putnam - son of Colonel Israel Putnam and grandson of General Israel Putnam. George W. Putnam, b. Pomfret, Conn., July 27, 1777, came with his father and family, after the Indian War, driving one of the teams, along with the late Phineas Matthews, of Coeshire, who also drove one of Colonel Putnam's teams. Geo. W. Putnam was one of the first county judges of Gallia County. He died in May, 1815, of what was known as the "cold plague". Whatever it may have been, it was certainly contagious, for the reason that Mrs. Mary (Russell) Matthews, first wife of Phineas Matthews who volunteered to help attend their old friend during his illness, and until his death, was then herself taken with the same disease and died in a short time. Another version of his death was that he was helping Phineas Matthews shear his sheep, he came overheated, drank too much water and was taken with the "cold plague" and died at the Matthews farm house. Mrs. Matthews nursed him, took the same disease and died within a week (June 4th, 1815), leaving an infant son, a few days less than two months old.

The children of Phineas Matthews and "Nabby" (Noble)

Matthews so far as known at this time (1934) were:

I. Eliza Matthews, b. _____

m. _____, William Symmes.

II. Judge Moses R. Matthews, b. _____

m. _____, Mary Smith.

III. Noble Matthews.

IV. Louisa Matthews

m. 1860, Cornelius Lucas.

IMMIGRANT ANCESTORS.

The following letters, copies of the original and known in the family as the "Young Letters" now (1947) in my possession, were the means of establishing the relationship of the Chase and Crawford families, by identifying Alice Young, whom I knew to be my great grandmother, with the "Alice Young" named in the book, "The William Crawford Memorial," by John and Jennings Crawford.

These letters contain some Chase data also. They were written by George L. Young to Julia (Chase) Giles my mother's oldest sister. My mother Alice (Chase) Bradfield was named for her grandmother Alice Young who was the daughter of Catherine Crawford (dau. of Col. William and Alice (Kennedy) Crawford) who married Hugh Young. This Col. William Crawford was a Revolutionary soldier. He was a son of John Crawford from Scotland. Col. Crawford's wife Alice Kennedy was a daughter of David Kennedy also from Scotland to Pennsylvania.

MERRILL

"John and Nathaniel Merrill, brothers came from Salisbury County, Wilts., England, to Ipswich, Mass., in 1633, and settled at Newbury in the same colony among the first settlers of that town. They are descended from the Huguenot family of De Merle, who escaped to England after the St. Bartholomew Day (Aug. 1552). The family of De Merle belonged to the Auvergne nobility, having had an ancestral estate near Place-de-Dombes in that province.

The emigrant made use of the arms we give which are different, (although the crest is the same) from the Merrill arms as given by the English works of heraldry."

"We have seen imprints of the seal of one of the Emigrant's grandsons*, affixed to a deed dated 1726. The devices were exactly those we give."

"A Merrill Memorial" contains much information about above Susanna, also information can be found in "One Bassett Family in America", by Buell². Bassette, New Britian, Conn., 1926.

Will of Gregory Wolterton, 1674 at Hartford, Conn. given in full in Manwaring's Digest of Hartford Wills (1-259). Since he leaves his tanyard and housing to John Merrill, his connection to Susanna Wolterton who married Nathaniel Merrill seems evident.

Contributor S.M.F. states he has undertaken to identify the ancestry of Gregory Wolterton. He has never found it outside the county of Norfolk. (Eng.).

Gregory Wolterton of Hartford was a tanner. Nathaniel Merrill married Susanna Wolterton prior to emigration. He d. in 1655 and his widow married Stephen Jordan of Ipswich and Newbury. It is assumed that she was a sister of Gregory Wolterton, and John Merrill(*) her son removed to Hartford ab. 1657, evidently to enter into the tanning business with his uncle Wolterton(?). Subsequent association of these persons seems to justify the assumption of a relationship of that degree. The English origin of Nathaniel Merrill is satisfactorily traced to Wetherstead, Suffolk, and it may be that the Wilterton-Brockway-Waller phases of this family problem depend on finding the marriage of Nathaniel Merrill in some adjoining parish.

There are records showing that Susanna was a sister of Gregory Wolterton or Walterton of Hartford, 1674. A photographed copy of his will is in Vol. III of Mainwaring's Digest of Hartford Wills. Wolterton wrote his own will and signed his name Wolverton.

Its variant in Eng. is Wolverton.

"Leffingwell Family", by A. & C. W. Leffingwell, 1897

"Our English Ancestry."

Four centuries ago when Columbus set sail for the discovery of a New World, there was living in England one Lawrence Leffingwell, who wrote his name precisely as we in America write it today. During succeeding years it passed through many orthographic changes; but from the day in 1662, when Thomas Leffingwell takes his seat in the general court of Hartford, the orthography is uniform. We write it today, as Lawrence Leffingwell wrote it in 1495, when Henry VIII was a baby and Martin Luther a lad.

"History of Norwich", p. 189.

- (1.) Thomas Leffingwell, according to minutes preserved among his descendants, was a native of Croxhall, England. The period of his emigration has not been ascertained.

In his testimony before the Court of Commissioners at Stonington in 1705, he says he was acquainted with Uncas in the year 1637, and was knowing to the assistance rendered by the Sachem to the English, then and every after, during his life. According to his age as given in depositions he must have been born about the year 1622,—therefore at the time of the Pequot War, not more than fifteen or sixteen years of age.

The earliest notices of his name connect him with Saybrook. From the Colonial records we learn that in March, 1650, a petition was presented, "from the inhabitants of Saybrook, by Matthew Griswold and Tho: Leppingwell". The births of his children are also registered at Saybrook, but under the simple heading of "Children of Thomas Leffingwell"—the name of the mother not being mentioned.

The list is as follows:

"Rachel Born 17 March 1648;

Thomas " 27 August 1649;

Jonathan " 6 Dec. 1650;

Joseph " 24 Dec. 1652;

Mary " 16 Dec. 1654;

Nathaniel " 11 Dec. 1656."

It is probable also that Samuel Leffingwell, who married Ann Dickinson, Nov. 16, 1687, and died in 1691, was the son of Thomas, though his birth is not recorded. (Other records give him as a son.)

Following Mr. Leffingwell to his new home in Norwich, we find him an active and influential member of the plantation. He was one of the first two deputies of the town to the General Court, in October, 1662: An officer of the first train-band and during Phillips' War, lieutenant under Capt. Denison in his famous band of Marauders, that swept so many times through Narragansett, and scoured the country to the sources of the Quinebaug. He lived to old age, but the record of his death does not give his years, and no memorial stone marks his grave.

The staff of the venerated lieutenant, reputed to have been brought with him from his native place, and bearing his initials on its silver head, is now in the possession of one of his descendants, Rev. Thomas Leffingwell Shipman of Jewett City, Conn. This memorial staff is interesting on the score of antiquity, but far more so from its association with the venerable men of successive generations to whom it has been a staff of support. It calls up from the misty past the image of the old soldier, or the deacon, on the Sabbath day, slowly marching up to his seat under the pulpit; we see his white hair, and hear the steady sound of his staff brought down at every step.

- (2.) Thomas Leffingwell, Jun^r, and Mary Bushnell were married in September, 1672, and might have celebrated their golden wedding in 1722, with a house-full of prosperous descendants gathered around them. The husband died March 5, 1723-4, leaving five daughters, all married to Bushnell's and Tracy's, and three sons, Thomas, John and Benajah.

Mrs. Mary Leffingwell long survived her partner, as the epitaph on her grave-stone proves.

valuation of estate, $9793.9.11. It is doubtful whether, at any time, any other estate in the town equaled this in value.

- (3.) The third Thomas Leffingwell, son of the Ensign, and born in 1674, is distinguished as Deacon Thomas. He married Lydia, daughter of Solomon Tracy, and died July 18, 1733. He had six children.

His brothers, Capt. John and Benajah Leffingwell, had large families: the former, eight daughters, and four sons; the latter eight sons and four daughters.

Capt. John Leffingwell married, first, Sarah Abell, and second, Mary Hart of Farmington. The first wife is commemorated in the following epitaph:

Here lyes ye Body of that Worthy, Virtuous and most injeneous and jenteel Woman, Mrs.
Sara Leffingwell,
who Dyed May ye
9th, 1730. Aged
39 years.

Benajah Leffingwell married Joanna Christophers of New London.

Col. Christopher Leffingwell of the Revolutionary period was the third of his eight sons.

- (4.) Thomas Leffingwell, 4th (son of Deacon Thomas) married Elizabeth daughter of the Rev. Benjamin Lord, Jan. 23, 1729. He died in 1793, in the 90th year of his age.
- (5.) Thomas Leffingwell, 5th, born in 1732, died in December, 1814, aged 82.

These five generations were in direct succession, each the oldest son of the oldest son, but the lineage is here interrupted, as Thomas the 5th died unmarried.

The Leffingwell tree has a multitude of branches, Samuel Leffingwell, who married Hannah Gifford, March 2, 1714-5, was the progenitor of several large families. A district in the southern part of the township is known by the familiar designation of Leffingwell-town, from the predominance of the name in that neighborhood. In a field upon old Leffingwell land in this district there is a quiet village of the dead, where Leffingwell's, Chapman's, Post's, and other names of the vicinity, are found. Here is the grave of Dea. Andrew Leffingwell, who died in 1803. He was the son of Samuel and born Dec. 12, 1724.

Some of the Leffingwells, who lived on farms, have the traditional renown of having been stalwart men, able horsemen, enterprising, robust, dreadnaught kind of people. They would ride to Boston in a day, with a led horse for relief, and return on the morrow, unconscious of fatigue. One of them, it is said, performed the feat with a single horse, but the noble animal was sacrificed by the exploit, being found dead the next morning.

"Leffingwell Family" by A. & C. W. Leffingwell, 1897, p. 9.

(1.) Thomas¹ Leffingwell. The Pioneer.

About the year 1637, only a short time after the first settlement of New England, there appears among the forests of Connecticut a young hunter calling himself Thos. Leffingwell..... He was gifted with unusual physical strength, which for a time appeared in his descendants. He was endowed with that courage which does not shrink from the greatest perils, when danger is the only path to great accomplishment.

He became one of the founders of a large and flourishing city, and for more than a third of a century, held important positions of honor and trust.

He gave relief to Uncas (Chief) of the Mohegan Sachem, when closely besieged by the Narragansett Indians. It was an achievement that today would have been published around the world. For his service Uncas gave said Leffingwell a deed of a great part of the town of Norwich. (About 400 a.)

Council of Hartford issues orders to encourage such as shall go forth under command of Capt. Geo. Denison, or Capt. James Avery, or Lt. Thos. Minor, or Ens. Thos. Leffingwell.

All plunder to be divided among them. This was during King Phillips War. An expedition left Norwich in 14 days on 30th March (1676). On the following April 10 it returned with prisoners, among them Canenchet. King Phillip was killed. A grant of land was given Lt. Leffingwell, and others as a plantation, for their service.

P. 24.

Her Majesty Queen Anne under the Great Seal of England, dated July 19, 1704, authorized others, and Thos. Leffingwell of Norwich, Conn., Gentleman, to be Commissioners, to restore the Mohegans their lands in case they were unjustly dispossessed. Their decision was against the Governor of Connecticut and in favor of the Mohegan Indians.

It is recorded that, "Mrs. Mary Leffingwell died Feb. 6, 1711" probably at a very advanced age. Tradition states she was Mary White; that Thomas Leffingwell, during a visit to England, married her and brought her with him to this country.

The children were:

1. Rachel, b. (prob. Saybrook, Conn.) March 17, 1648, m. Nov. 24, 1681 Robert Park. 10 children.
2. Thomas, b. Aug. 27, 1649; m. Mary Bushnell.

Nathaniel Leffingwell, 4th son of Lt. Thomas Leffingwell, was born at Saybrook, Dec. 11, 1656, and died at Norwich Sept. 20, 1697. It is recorded that in Jan. 1687 he received from his father a gift of his "whole right and interest, of and into, the land over the River Shawtucket at the Ferry".

Samuel Leffingwell, the fourth son of Nathaniel

Leffingwell, of Norwich, was born there in June 1692: the date of his death does not seem to be on record. He married March 2, 1714-15, Hannah Gifford, dau. of Samuel and Mary (Calkins) Gifford, born at Windham, Dec. 27, 1696. This Samuel Gifford was the son of Stephen¹ Gifford, one of the original proprietors of Norwich, who married for his first wife, Hannah Gore. This Mary Calkins was a daughter of John¹ Calkins of New London who was born in England, and married Sarah Royce, dau. of Robert Royce, of New London.

Samuel Leffingwell and wife settled in Norwich, where his name frequently occurs on the land records. In 1727 he was appointed by the General Assembly of the State as an ensign to the trained band of Norwich, on the "west side of the line dividing the second company". It is possible that this is the Samuel Leffingwell "ferryman at Norwich", who petitioned the General Assembly in 1718, to raise the fare at the ferry, "six pence money for a man, horse and load, and for a single man or a single horse three pence$.

IMMIGRANT ANCESTORS.

Mr. Hananian Ordway, who was born Dec. 2, 1665, was one of the first settlers in the Westerly part of Newbury, near Indian Hill. He died in June 1758, aged ninety-two and a half years. His house was a garrison house, and on one occasion in the early part of his residence in that part of the town, he saw, in the evening, an Indian creep in by the gate that led to the house. He immediately seized his musket, and fired at the spot where he had seen him enter. On examination, he could find no trace of the Indian, who had left his gun, and his powder horn filled with rum, and which had been shot off from the belt by which it had been fastened to his body. Some weeks after, the body of an Indian was found dead in the woods, who Mr. Ordway supposed was the one at whom he fired and wounded. The gun and horn are now in possession of his descendants, from whom I obtained this information. This was perhaps the only Indian ever killed in Newbury by any of the inhabitants, but continual caution was necessary for many years after seventeen hundred, to guard against attack, which the natives might be disposed to make on the white inhabitants.

IMMIGRANT ANCESTOR.

Thomas (1) Follansbee, was born in England in 1637, of a family whose ancestors came from Normandy, with William the Conqueror, who gave an estate in County Durham, Eng., to the Follansbee family as a reward for their services in forwarding the conquest in England, a tract of land of seven hundred acres, called Follansbee Farms, and a house called Follansbee Hall. Their coat-of-arms was a beehive and swarm of bees, from which the name is supposed originally to have been Following bees, or Follow bees.

Thomas, born ab. 1637, came from Derbyshire, Eng., in 1642, with his brother William, who later returned to England.

He settled in Portsmouth, N.H., where in 1660 he married his first wife, Mary____, the mother of all his children. He removed to Newbury, Mass., before 1677.

Arrived at Plymouth 1620.

John and Hugh IMMIGRANT ANCESTORS.

Hugh (1) Caulkins was one of the party that came with Mr. Blinman in 1640, from Monmouthshire, on the border of Wales. He brought with him, his wife Ann and several children, and settled with others of his party, first at marshfield, and then at Gloucester. At the latter place he was one of the selectmen from 1642 to 1648 inclusive, a commissioner for the trial of small cases in 1645, and Deputy to the General Court in 1650 and 1651. (Ref. Babson of Gloucester, MS.)

In an account extant at Gloucester, reference is made to the time "When Hugh Caulkins went with the Cattle to Pequot." This was doubtless in 1651, and it seems to intimate that in his removal he took the land route through the wilderness, and had charge of the stock belonging to the emigrant company. He dwelt at New London about ten years, and during that period was twelve times chosen deputy to the General Court, the elections being semi-annual.

He was one of the townsmen from 1652 to 1661 inclusive. In 1660 he united with a company of proprietors, associated to settle Norwich, and a church being organized at Saybrook previous to the removal, he was chosen one of its Deacons.

In 1663 and 1664, he was deputy to the court from Norwich.

He died in 1690 aged ninety years.

He is supposed to be the progenitor of most, if not all who bear the name in the United States.

He left two sons, John and David; ages unknown. John was one of the proprietors of Norwich: David the youngest remained at New London, and inherited his fathers farm, at Nehantick, which is now owned by his descendants in a right line of the sixth generation.

HUGH CALKINS

Hugh Calkins (or Caulkins*) was one of a body of emigrants, called the Welsh Company, that came to New England in 1640, from Chepstow in Monmouthshire, on the border of Wales, with their minister Mr. Blinman.

The larger portion of this company settled first at Marshfield, but soon transferred their residence to Gloucester, upon the rough promontory of Cape Ann. From thence, after eight years of experiment, most of them removed to New London, hoping probably to find lands more arable and productive, and allured also by affectionate attachment to Mr. Blinman, whom Mr. Winthrop had invited to his plantation.

* The Name appears on the early records, written indifferently with or without the U, and with or without the final S.

Hugh Calkins was, in 1650, deputy from Gloucester to the General Court of Massachusetts, and chosen again in 1651 but removing early in that year to New London, the vacancy was filled by another election.

While living at New London, he was chosen twelve times deputy to the Connecticut Assembly (the elections being semi-annual) and was one of the townsmen, or selectmen, invariably, from 1652 till he removed to Norwich.

From Norwich he was deputy to ten sessions of the Legislature, between March, 1663, and October, 1671 and was one of the first "deacons" of the Norwich Church. At each of the three towns in which he was an early settler, and proprietor, he was largely employed in public business, being usually appointed one of a committee for consultation, for fortifying, drafting soldiers, settling difficulties, and particularly for surveying lands and determining boundaries.

These offices imply a considerable range of information, as well as activity and executive talent, yet he seems to have had no early education, uniformly making only a bold H for his signature. In a deposition made in 1672, he stated that he was 72 years of age. The year 1600 may therefore be taken as the date of his birth.

Of his wife we only know that her name was Ann. Six children have been traced, four of whom were probably born before the emigration to this country.

1. Sarah, supposed to be the oldest child was married at Gloucester, Oct. 23, 1645, to William Lough. This couple removed in 1651 to New London, and several of their descendants afterwards settled in Norwich and its vicinity.
2. Mary was married at Gloucester November 3, 1649, to Hugh Roberts: and these also followed the fortunes of the family to New London.
3. Rebecca died at Gloucester March 14, 1651.
4. Deborah was born at Gloucester, March 13, 1643-4, and is the only one of the children the date of whose birth has been ascertained. She married Jonathan Royce, one of the first band of Norwich proprietors. The two sons of Hugh Calkins were
5. John and David. The former removed with his father to Norwich.
6. David remained in New London. (Married about 1672-3, Mary Bliss of Norwich, Conn. He died November 20, 1717. New London. Boston Transcript.)

Deacon Hugh Calkins died in 1690 aged about 90 years.

John(1~~2~~)Calkins, the eldest son of Hugh(1), was probably born about 1634. Came with his parents to Green Harbor, Mass., about 1640. He was old enough to be summoned to work, with other settlers, on the mill-dam at New London in 1652.

He married at New London in 1658, Sarah, daughter of Robert(1) Royce and his oldest child Hugh was born at that place before he removed to Norwich.

John Calkins was one of the selectmen of Norwich in 1671, and on the jury of the county court so late as 1691.

He died Jan. 8, 1702-3. Sarah, his relict, died May 1, 1711, aged 77 years.

by W. E. Thwing.

From the "Introduction," by James de Normandie.

"The First Church in Roxbury traces an eventful history to the settlement of the plantation. On the same spot, without any break in the seconds, or any pause in its worship with a line of most distinguished ministers from the Apostle Eliot, to the great preacher, Dr. Putnam, with a very large number of its members eminent in every department of civic, professional, and private life (as will appear in this book,) and with many events of historical significance occurring within its grounds, this church is rapidly approaching the end of three centuries."

"The First Church in Roxbury, whose influence was to become great and far reaching, was the sixth to be gathered by the emigrants to New England, being preceded by those of Plymouth (1620), Salem (1629), Dorchester (1630), Boston (1630) and Watertown (1630).

A company of the men who arrived in Winthrop's fleet in 1630, set down in Roxbury, and these, with others who came later in the same year and in 1631, were the founders of the church."

IMMIGRANT ANCESTORS.

I. Robert(1) Royce was born in England and married, ~~it is believed~~, Mary Sims in County Somerset, England, June 4, 1634.

They sailed from Ipswich England in the ship Francis. In 1650 he was at Stratford, west of New Haven, where he was still living in 1656. In 1657 he removed to New London, where the town granted him land. By trade he was a shoemaker, but in 1667 he was licensed to keep a tavern. In the same year he was freed from training in the militia, which would indicate that he had reached the age of sixty years. Hence we may conclude that he was born about 1607. In 1660 he was constable and in 1661 he was representative to the General Court of Connecticut. Robert Royce died at New London, Conn., in 1667, and his widow probably went to live with her son, Samuel, at Wallingford. She died about 1697.

Robert(1) Royce of New London was a separate individual from Robert Royce of Boston, with whom he has been persistently confused.

Robert Royce of Boston left a widow Elizabeth: Robert(1) Royce of New London died in 1676, leaving a widow Mary.

In 1663 Robert Royce petitioned the town for a grant of land to settle his two sons, Samuel and Nathaniel. This was granted: their father gave them also his mountain farm, "bought of Weaver Smith, and lying west of Alewife Brook, by the Mountain". The name of Royce's Mountain was long retained in that locality. The Royce Mountain farm was purchased by John and Wait Winthrop in 1691.

None of the Royce family was left at New London, after the death of Robert but his aged widow, who, in 1688 was still an occupant of the Post Hill homestead, which was subsequently sold to John Prentiss. The remainder of the Royce land was purchased by Rev. Gurdon Saltonstall, and has of late been known as the Mumford lot. It lies west of the old burial ground, and was the original house lot of Rev. Richard Blinman.

The Royce family, by marriages, became connected by double links with the families of Hugh Calkins and Samuel Lathrop.

An accurate account of his children is given in "Goodwin and Morgan Ancestral Lines", Vol. I. pp. 295-301, to which reference may be made for a more detailed account of his career.

Four of the five sons of Robert Royce of New London removed to Wallingford, and the widow Mary probably lived with the son Samuel.

the ministry and churches with which he and his family had been connected.

THE GOAL

By Mary T. Roberts

A hundred years from now, or so they say,
It will not matter what ~~e~~ we do today.
But man with eyes upon a gleaming goal
Will work and dream till body parts from soul.
For our posterity we hold a trust--
Bequeathing the gold of ancestor dust.
